

Deborah Connors – Changing the Workplace Conversation

A captivating speaker, storyteller, author and workplace coach, Deborah researches the latest breakthroughs in workplace health and culture around the globe. She has interviewed many of the leading organizational health experts, which forms the basis of her work: teaching leaders how to radically shift culture so that people can flourish.

She is a prominent figure in the story of how Canadian workplaces have become better places to work through her development of The Better Workplace Conference, which she successfully led for 17 years. This powerful initiative created a whole generation of workplace health professionals and a huge community of practice.

She speaks about how to shift practices in the workplace to create environments that allow for more creativity, innovation, engagement and fun.

In her book "A Better Place To Work: Daily Practices That Transform Culture" (2018), she has distilled the knowledge of hundreds of thought-leaders she brought together each year, combining it with her own leadership experience to provide practical advice for transformative workplace change. Deborah holds a BSC and an MPE (Health Promotion). She is a certified CMHA Psychological Health & Safety Advisor and Mental Health Works Facilitator, and a member of the Canadian Positive Psychology Association, Wellness Works Canada and the Canadian Management
